Part X, Line 2:

The Center is organized as an Wyoming nonprofit corporation and has been recognized by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) as exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3), qualifies for the charitable contribution deduction under Section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi), and has been determined not to be a private foundation under Section 509(a)(1). The Center is annually required to file a Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax (Form 990) with the IRS. In addition, the Center is subject to income tax on net income that is derived from business activities that is unrelated to its exempt purposes. We have determined that the Center is not subject to unrelated business income tax and has not filed an Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return (Form 990-T) with the IRS.

The Center believes that it has appropriate support for any tax positions taken affecting its annual filing requirements, and as such, does not have any uncertain tax positions that are material to the financial statements. The Center would recognize future accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits and liabilities in income tax expense if such interest and penalties are incurred.

Form 990, Part I, Revenue and Expenses:

The Center changed its financial year-end from a fiscal year-end of June 30 to a calendar year-end in 2017. The prior year numbers reflected on page 1 of this return reflect the six-month period, July - December 2017. The majority of The Center's contribution and grant revenue is received during this period, but only about half of its program service revenue, investment income and other revenue is received during this period. This means the program service revenue, investment income and other revenue as well as expenses in the 2017 column are about half of the 2018 program service revenue, investment income and other revenue and expenses as the current year numbers reflect the twelve-month period, January - December 2018.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a, Program Service Accomplishments:

A core part of the Center's mission is to enhance arts and culture in its community. Jackson Hole has developed a robust community of small arts organizations, which were slowly disappearing due to the high cost of rent in the area. From the beginning, part of the purpose of the Center's main campus was to provide space at substantially below cost for multiple arts organizations to flourish.

The Center now has nineteen nonprofit arts and education "Resident" organizations exempt under Section 501(c)(3) as tenants. In addition to substantially below cost rent for office space, these organizations receive deeply discounted access to the Center's campus for performances, exhibitions and other displays of their work. In some cases, that access is complimentary, allowing Residents to work closely with each other and form new collaborations using the common spaces, conference centers, and equipment of the Center for free.

In addition to Resident Organizations, the Center conducts several creative programs of its own. Currently, the four main ones are: Center Presents, Creative in Residence, Center Collaborations, and Campus Exhibitions. The Center Presents series brings a diverse selection of national and internationally recognized performers to Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Creative in Residence provides support and space for visiting artists to work at the Center, alongside the artistic community. The Center Collaborations program supports outstanding programming on the arts campus based on creative merit, shared audiences, and resources (financial need), and encourages risk-taking artwork. And Campus Exhibitions add visual vibrancy to the Center by supporting and showcasing a diverse group of artists, particularly young artists and artists who might not otherwise be recognized more broadly. The Campus Exhibitions program is pivotal in creating a positive and artistic experience for patrons visiting the Center.
